

CloudDesk Support Policy

Customer support, returns, refunds, shipping, account, and service policies for the CloudDesk customer-support RAG dataset.

1. General Support Policy

CloudDesk support is available Monday–Friday, 9:00 AM–6:00 PM IST. Business-plan customers receive priority support. Support agents may assist with account access, billing, product usage, troubleshooting, and supported integrations.

Support agents will never ask customers for their password, 2FA recovery codes, or complete payment-card details.

2. Return & Refund Policy

Eligibility

Customers may request a refund within 14 days of a qualifying charge. Refund requests are reviewed individually and approval is not automatic.

How to Request a Refund

Contact customer support and provide the account email, invoice number, charge date, and reason for the request. Support may request additional information to verify the transaction.

Refund Processing

Approved refunds are returned to the original payment method. Processing time depends on the payment provider and may take several business days after approval.

Non-Refundable Situations

Refunds may not be available for requests submitted outside the applicable refund period, unauthorized use caused by sharing account credentials, or services already consumed where the applicable policy excludes refunds.

3. Shipping & Delivery Information

CloudDesk is a digital SaaS product and does not normally ship physical products. For physical promotional items or hardware supplied through a partner, delivery times and shipping charges are determined by the applicable order confirmation.

Delivery Delays

If a physical order is delayed beyond the estimated delivery window, customers should contact support with their order number. Support can investigate the shipment status with the delivery provider.

Incorrect or Damaged Delivery

Customers should report incorrect, missing, or damaged physical items within 7 days of delivery and provide the order number and photographs when applicable.

4. Subscription & Billing Policy

Paid subscriptions renew automatically on the renewal date shown in Settings → Billing. Customers can upgrade or cancel their subscription from the billing settings.

Upgrades take effect immediately and may include a prorated charge. Cancellation normally prevents the next renewal while access remains available until the end of the current billing period.

5. Account & Security Policy

Customers are responsible for keeping their credentials secure. Two-factor authentication is recommended, especially for accounts with administrative privileges.

If unauthorized access is suspected, the customer should immediately change the password, revoke active sessions, enable 2FA, and contact support with 'Security Incident' in the subject.

6. Support Priority & Response Targets

Priority	Example	Initial Response
P1 - Critical	Workspace unavailable	1 hour
P2 - High	Major feature unavailable	4 business hours
P3 - Normal	Individual feature issue	1 business day
P4 - Low	General question / feature request	2 business days

Response targets apply during support hours. Business customers may have contract-specific SLA terms that supersede these standard targets.

7. Policy Exceptions

Exceptions require verification and approval by an authorized support or billing representative. Support agents must not promise refunds, credits, replacements, or policy exceptions before approval.

8. Data & Account Deletion

Workspace owners may request permanent deletion of workspace data. Deletion requests require account verification and may not be reversible once completed.

9. Feature Requests

Feature requests are recorded and reviewed by the product team. Submitting a feature request does not guarantee that the feature will be implemented.

10. Support Contact

For support, customers should provide their registered email address, relevant order or invoice number, a clear description of the issue, and screenshots or error messages when available.
